Petrol prices in Faringdon - 27/1/19

Can someone please explain why the Esso in Faringdon is 15p p/ litre more than the Esso in Stratton. It's also 16p more than Asda are charging. The BP at Buckland is just as bad. It's the most expensive I have found and as I don't like being ripped off, I have not bought fuel at either for many years now.

Are the owners just taking the proverbial or just rip off merchants.

I wish more people would boycott them.

Regards, grumpy old man.

Badbury Clump car park - 15/1/19

We have recently received planning for Badbury to move the car park off the iron age hill fort and improve the entrance/exit to the site. For safety reasons we may occasionally have to close the whole car park but we aim to have some parking open.

As part of the car park upgrade we will be introducing car park charges. This money will go back into the conservation work we do at Badbury and improvements for all our visitors. The work will be starting shortly
